IN TODAY'S GOSPEL

The prayer of Jesus to the Father in John 17 sheds light on how important it is to pray for unity: in the family, the parish, the diocese and the Church at large. Today his prayer is for unity among those who will come to believe in him through the word (the teaching, preaching and New Testament writings) that will be passed on by Jesus' disciples. But why should there be unity among Jesus' disciples. And, more importantly, how is this unity to come about? What is it about believing in Jesus that brings about unity as a consequence?

It is all about the new creation that is established through Jesus' resurrection. Jesus is himself the first-born of God's new creation. When Jesus died, he took with him to the cross the sin and fallen nature of all of humanity. Humanity's fallen nature is that nature in which the self-life has been allowed to rule and control us. It is a nature that, in the end, cannot have union with God, because the self-life refuses to let God take the central place – it is my will that I do, rather than God's will. Jesus, throughout his life, revealed a true human life which was completely surrendered to the will of the Father. However, the cross was necessary because the power of the self-life, and of self-will, needed to be put to death. It was brought to an end on Calvary. The resurrected Jesus is now the source of a life that is entirely one with the will of God.

For that same life to be manifested in us today, it is essential that we have union with both the death and resurrection of Jesus. The key element is our willingness to let go of the self-life and self-will that can so dominate our lives - even, and perhaps especially, when our self-will produces actions and thoughts that we consider good. Part of the difficulty for us is that we often fail to realize just how much and how often our actions are determined by self-will. It is the work of the Holy Spirit to reveal the extent of our self-will, and as he brings this to light, it will be his work also to bring that self-life to the cross.

Lord, by your cross and resurrection you have set us free. You are the Saviour of the world, the Prince of Peace, Unity and Reconciliation.

Welcome to the parish of St. Joseph the Worker to all our parishioners and visitors.

This coming week we are waiting in prayer for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. After the Ascension the disciples together with Mary went back to the upper room where they had celebrated the Last Supper. They needed that time to pray and reflect on all that had happened. Jesus had promised them a comforter, the Holy Spirit. He would be with them every time they celebrated the Eucharist. Prayer makes us more open to God and to relax in his presence. We too should pray for ourselves and for others.

We also ask Priests and religious to offer Mass for different intentions. "Ask and it will be given to you; search and you will find; the one who asks and searches will always find. The one who knocks will have the door open to them".

We need to work and pray in our lives. So, like the disciples this week, we should pray like Mary for a renewed outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the church and on all of us that we may respond to God better and a deeper love and respect for Jesus in Holy Communion. This year why don't we go on holiday with the Lord on retreat? Lord God you promise not to leave us orphans but to remain with us always. Be with us in our confusion and disappointment when we do not know what to do. Grant that we hear your call to silence and prayer and withdraw to our "upstairs room". There we ask you not pour out on us afresh your Holy Spirit that we may be better witnesses to you in our families, parish and places of work.

I wish you all a happy day with your families and a wonderful week.

I beg our parents and all of us to pray that we may become what we receive in Holy Communion: Jesus body, blood, soul and divinity. What an awesome thought!

First Holy Communion – 2

See on the right a collection of photos from the First Holy Communion celebrations last Saturday. As you can see, it was a momentous and joyous day in the life of our church. It was great to have the children and their families sharing their special day. And special thanks goes to Arthur Edwards for sending through these lovely pictures. What a day!

ST CHARLES LWANGA AND COMPANIONS

Charles Lwanga (1 January 1860 – 3 June 1886) was a Ugandan convert to the Catholic Church, who was martyred for his faith and is revered as a saint by both the Catholic Church and the Anglican Communion. A member of the Baganda tribe, Lwanga was born in the Kingdom of Buganda, the central and southern part of modern Uganda, and served as chief of the royal pages and later major-domo in the court of King Mwanga II of Buganda. He was baptised by Pere Giraud on 15 November 1885. As part of the king's effort to resist foreign colonization, the king insisted that Christian converts abandon their new faith and executed many Anglicans and Catholics between 1885 and 1887, including Lwanga and other officials in the royal court or otherwise very close to him.

Fund Raisers Wanted

Pope on Twitter

In our lives there are crosses, there are difficult moments. But in these difficult moments we feel that the Holy Spirit helps us to go forward and to overcome the difficulties

Even today so many Christians are killed and persecuted for the love of Christ. They give their lives in silence, because their martyrdom isn't newsworthy. Yet there are more Christian martyrs today than in the early centuries.

It is the Spirit who makes us arise from our limitations, from our deaths, because we have so many necroses in our life, in our soul. The message of the Resurrection is this: we must be reborn.

Mercy shown to those who can only receive, without giving anything in return, is precious in the eyes of God.

Altar Servers – THIS IS URGENT – VERY URGENT

Over the years our parish has been blessed with wonderful, committed Altar Servers. Serving at the Altar is not just a hobby that we do each week. It is part of who we are – following Jesus Christ. Serving at the Altar is a privilege – something we do out of love for him. Let others see what a difference our faith makes to our lives. As Altar Servers let us be a people of faith and strong followers of Jesus, let us respond generously to God's call. We require more Altar Servers at each Mass. Please contact Fr. Leslie.

Reflection

As we approach the Feast of Pentecost, let us each day invoke the Holy Spirit to fill us with the love of Jesus and help us to seek His mercy and forgiveness, and to deepen our love for the Eucharist, that we may become what we receive. "Come Holy Spirit, fill our hearts with your love".

Children's corner

Welcome to children's corner.

Welcome to our children's corner. Have you noticed the Stations of the Cross in the school playground?

We invite parents and children to say this prayer together. God of mercy and forgiveness, you ask us to listen to your son, Jesus Christ. Open our ears to hear your word and fill our hearts with your love so that we may change our lives and the lives of others. Amen

IN THE GOSPEL TODAY

Jesus prays to his Father in heaven. Jesus asks God the Father to keep all his friends safe.

A PRAYER TO SAY

Dear Jesus, thank you for being my friend. Please help me to be a good friend. Amen.
