Stewards Of the Gospel

"The important thing in evangelising is not to effortfully set out to try to convert someone, but to live one's faith as a Catholic attractively. It is important to trust that God is working".

Welcome to our parish news of St. Joseph the Worker 6 April 2025

As Our Lord stoops to write upon the dust of the earth, a woman stands before him. She trembles with fear, surrounded by men cloaked in the garments of righteousness but armed with stones of condemnation. They do not seek justice, but they will use this woman's life in order to trap Our Lord.

The irony is striking. They bring a sinner before the One who can forgive sin. Yet in their blindness, they cannot see that their own souls stand more condemned than hers. Sin has made her fall, but hypocrisy has made them blind.

Christ bends low, tracing His finger in the dust—a silent echo of the hand that once inscribed the commandments upon stone. And when He does rise, it is not to throw a stone, but to cast a challenge: "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her."

One by one, the stones slip from their fingers, their own consciences having convicted them more deeply than any outward accusation. And when all have left, the only one with the authority to condemn her looks upon her with love and mercy.

Christ does not dismiss her sin, nor does He diminish it. He does not say, "It is nothing." Rather, He says, "Neither do I condemn you. Go, and sin no more." The divine pattern is set: the world condemns and does not forgive but Christ, in His infinite wisdom, forgives while calling the sinner to holiness.

Herein lies the great tragedy of modern man: we would rather throw stones than repent. We demand justice for others but mercy for ourselves. And yet, He who is without sin chooses mercy over judgment, bidding us to rise from the dust of our sins and walk anew in the light of grace.

For the only true shame is not in being a sinner—it is in refusing the mercy of God.

I wish you and your loved ones a blessed week. Fr. Gary

Mass intentions

Please don't forget to have a Mass said for the response of the soul of a family member, friends or someone who is sick or for a private intention. One day we will need people to pray for us. "Ask a holy priest to pray for the dead that they may be released from their sins" (from book of Maccabees). The celebration of Mass is the most powerful prayer as we represent the earth and resurrection of Jesus.

Adoration and Confessions

Saturday 10.30 - 11.15 a.m. or on request before Mass or any other time.

Sick parishioners

Please pray for our sick parishioners and those in care homes.

Keep a Flame Burning (Ex. 27:19-20)

Our sanctuary always burns to honour Christ and His presence in the Blessed Sacrament. It represents Our Lord among His people, and the fulfilment of His promise that He will be with us always. Would you like to sponsor a light in memory of a loved one or for a specific intention? Please contact Ngozi who will make a note of the date.

This week, the sanctuary lamp burns for the good of our parish community.
